

Photos of the Church

Following the Centenary Mass, I was asked if there were any old photos of the church or college that could be put together. I have had these three black and white pictures courtesy of David Holden with the colour picture a gift from a recent visitor to the church. If anyone has any others, that they are happy to share via email, then I will continue to put these together for everyone to enjoy.

Kate Dalglish

